GRAND KNIGHT'S REPORT

JOSEPH DONIGER

Brother Knights,

“Peace on Earth and Goodwill to all.” I guess that was Tiny Tim’s famous line in the movie “Scrooge.” It may have been around longer than when Charles Dickens was writing in the 19th century, but the thought is timeless for people of the Christian faith. Because of Dickens we associate it with Christmas. Of course who can be against this concept. It is the established order of life in God’s kingdom after we leave this world. You can’t get to heaven without having this as your goal and hopefully the theme that guides you through life.

Peace and Goodwill don’t just happen. They come from a worldview that is idealistic and an effort that is a part of every moment of our lives. For us to create peace we must sacrifice. To create goodwill we must exercise self-control and a desire to give rather than to receive. Forgiveness is part of the equation and repentance is a necessity for the bad moments in our lives. Selfishness has no place in a Worthy brothers all,

As I sit here on a rainy day, deciding on what to write, one thing keeps coming into mind. One thing keeps standing out among the noise in the run up to another Christmas Season and the attendant busyness it entails is the first charge of our order, CHARITY.

As I write this, everyone I know in this precious council of ours knows of at least one person, relative or a friend of a friend that may be experiencing a tough time right now. As a Knights of Columbus council, we are called upon to be a charitable resource to our community. Whether that entails something as modest a car raffle, or tootsie roll campaign to something more substantive as a teacher’s appreciation event, we need to be prepared for the needs of our respective community.

I mention some of our more noted charitable endeavors to make the point that we as a council have shown that we’re capable of working together for some worthwhile causes.

What we need to be preparing ourselves for is being a charitable resource for our members as well as our parish communities. How do we do this? Simple. GET INVOLVED!

Get involved in an activity that interests you. It could be a Faith, Community, Life or Family activity. It is OK to have more than one category of activity per quarter. I ask all of our members, especially our newest members to explore the possibility of running an activity or helping out with an activity. If there is something that you would like to see and hasn't been done, or has been overlooked, speak up. Don't be silent. Come to the meetings, held on the 1st and 3rd Tuesday of every month at 8:00 PM. Bring your ideas, energy and charitable enthusiasm.

As always, a good council can become a great council by adding new members and getting them active at some level. With charity as motivator, we'll have the unity and fraternalism that I have heard many say they would like to see here at Rock Creek Council again.

I would like to thank all of you for the support you have given me as your Grand Knight this Columbian Year. We're almost halfway through, with a lot things to do and events to plan. There is a 1st degree scheduled for December, 18, 2018. Please have the candidates arrive by 7:00 PM in the Lounge areas always for processing. Plus there are some exciting social and fraternal events on tap for the month as well. Call a friend to join.

With that, I wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

world where peace and goodwill are the dominant themes.

It is no wonder that this concept is associated with Christmas. Peace and goodwill are the result of people's lives when they practice their Catholic faith. Celebrating the birth of Jesus Christ is all about accepting His teaching. It is about putting God first and ourselves second. It is acknowledging God as Creator, Redeemer and Sanctifier for our world. It is who we become when we allow God's grace into our lives.

Creating peace and goodwill in our world is the natural byproduct of the birth of Jesus. We have a beautiful season called Advent to give us time to focus on this truth.

Vivat Jesus!

Sincerely,

Fr. Hughes

This Christmas Give Your Family Peace of Mind

Steve Upton, PGK, FDD

Financial peace of mind is one the most thoughtful gifts you can give someone. As we approach Christmas, plan to give your family the gift of financial security.

As a father, one of your greatest worries is protecting your children and their future. One of the most valuable ways is by purchasing a life insurance policy for them.

Knights of Columbus Insurance offers a Guaranteed Purchase Option (GPO), which ensures that more insurance can be purchased for your children. This option extends far beyond childhood; it guarantees that even as adults, your children will not be denied coverage, even if they suffer from health issues.

Life is uncertain and unpredictable; one of every six adults are postponed or denied life insurance coverage, with health denials being the primary reason. Knights of Columbus Insurance protects your children from uncertainty and provides additional peace of mind, in the event of the unimaginable or an emergency.

With a Knights of Columbus GPO, you guarantee that your children can purchase additional Knights of Columbus Life Insurance later in life. Secure your children's future with an insurance premium that, in many cases, is as low as $10/month.

I consider it an honor and a privilege to carry on Fr. McGivney's vision of protecting Catholic families. I am especially thankful that I have been assigned to the members and families of Rock Creek Council.

I am truly blessed. Thank you for welcoming me so warmly at council events and in your homes during 2018. I look forward to a long and continued relationship with the council. Contact me today to learn more about our products and how you can give the gift of financial security this Christmas.

I wish you all a Blessed and Merry Christmas; and a very prosperous and happy 2019.

DISTRICT DEPUTY'S REPORT

Worthy Brother Knights and Friends,

As we begin the Advent Season and prepare to celebrate the great feast days of the Immaculate Conception (Dec. 8) and Our Lady of Guadalupe (Dec. 12), it is right that we take stock of the blessings and gifts that Almighty God has poured forth in our lives. Likewise, we reflect on the challenges of the past year. And we are ever grateful for the grace of the Holy Spirit enabling us to carry the crosses of life both large and small. Finally, we should give thanks for the opportunity to help others carry their crosses of illness, poverty, persecution or disability. As Knights, we are grateful for the opportunity to serve as instruments of healing and hope in a suffering world. We are thankful for the call to serve our Holy Mother Church, our families and our communities as we work to build a Culture of Life.

Advent is a time of hopeful expectation and reflection. During this holy season, we should hope for a deeper experience of Christ's presence in our lives. And we should reflect on the transformative graces that are so often the fruit of our charitable work as Knights of Columbus made manifest in our lives and the lives of those we are privileged to serve. No one has expressed this life changing quality more clearly than St. John Paul II when he referred to the good works of the Knights of Columbus as the "Charity that evangelizes."

However, the most amazing catalogue of good works and charitable programs amount to nothing when we fail to say "Yes" to God's call to service. For us as Knights, there is no more meaningful lesson than the "Fiat" or "Yes" of Mary as she announced her willingness to serve as handmaiden of the Lord and "let it be done according to God's will." This is a fundamental, life altering truth - that the measure in which we welcome Christ into our hearts is in direct proportion to our willingness to say "Yes" to the service of others.

And Brothers, that "Yes" can be infectious. Unfortunately, so can the "No." I think we've all been inspired by a Knight or family member whose generosity of spirit was life changing. I often marvel at the power and evangelical witness that flows from the heart of one good person bent on accomplishing the good of another. And when that grace filled good heart is united with two or three or one hundred loving hearts bound together in faith and fraternal solidarity, the result is overwhelming. Lives are changed and in many cases, lives are saved.

The Knights of Columbus provides the opportunity for transformative, grace filled service like no other organization. But your membership card is not enough. You must say "Yes" and put your faith into action. In doing so, you will encourage others to take up the cross of another. And you may become the inspiration for countless acts of selfless giving and heart felt generosity, though they may be unknown to you. This is the charity that evangelizes. May we as Knights be ever grateful for this blessed opportunity to welcome Christ our Saviour into our families, our councils, our parishes and our communities by serving others during this Advent and Christmas Season and throughout the coming year.

May God bless and sustain you always. Vivat Jesus!

Vivat Jesus!

Cardinal Patrick A. O'Boyle Assembly, No. 386

The 57th Annual Assembly Memorial Mass was held at Holy Redeemer Chapel on Thursday, November 15, with a turnout of about 50. Assembly Friar Father Ryan Pineda celebrated mass, SK Bob Waters served as acolyte, and the Color Corps Team acted as honor guard. The Sir Knights who passed away this past year are SK Peter Ferrigno, SK Robert J. Morris, Sr., and SK Frank Rossomondo, Jr.; all were members of Rock Creek Council.

The Father Zylla Memorial chalice and paten engraved with the deceased SK's names was presented to Deacon Christian Huebner from the Archdiocese of Washington. Deacon Huebner, who is a Knight, is currently studying at the Pontifical North American College in Rome; his sister accepted the chalice on his behalf. The Mass set was accompanied with a check for $500.

Rock Creek's own Jason Wan was selected as SK of the month for November. Jason has already joined the Color Corps where he is very active.

Our Assembly placed a wreath at the tomb of the Unknowns, Arlington National Cemetery, to honor the American Military men/women who paid the ultimate price for our freedom.

Sir Knights are reminded that all color corps members will be required to wear the new uniform beginning July 1, 2019. The old uniform will not be accepted at exemplifications and other fourth degree events.

The next Cardinal O'Boyle meeting on Thursday, December 20, will be the Assembly Christmas Party. The pot luck event will begin at 7:30 pm with a brief business meeting. SK's are asked to bring in new/slightly used winter coats and food donations that will be forwarded to Fr. Michael Briesse. FN Sutton will pass out certificates to those patriotic members who have achieved service milestones (65 years, 55 years, etc.).

At the next 4th Degree Exemplification on Saturday, April 6, 2019 His Excellency, Most Reverend Mario E. Dorsonville, Auxiliary Bishop of Archdiocese of Washington, will be the Degree Honoree.

For more information or to join the Fourth Degree, please contact SK Neil Dorian at 301-237-0552, neildorian@yahoo.com.

Remembering Our Brother Knights

On November 24, Fr. Mark Hughes, our chaplain, celebrated the annual Memorial Mass for our deceased Brother Knights. Members and widows prayed for all deceased members, especially the 12 brothers who died in the last two years. Following a moving homily, the names of those who departed in the last two years were read, as a bell was tolled after each name. After Mass, everyone went to the lounge for a buffet breakfast and some conversation.

As Knights, we take our duty seriously to those whom the Lord has called to to a meeting, say a prayer for our sick

Thanksgiving at the Council

On November 20, Rock Creek Council held its Annual Members-Only Thanksgiving Dinner. PGK Wes Chin and his sous chefs provided a groaning board heaped with turkey, stuffing, potatoes, several veggies, pies, creams puffs and ice cream. No one left hungry. About 70 members, as well as Fr. Joseph Perkins and Fr. Michael Venditti, attended. The annual 50-50 netted over $1,200 for the Council's Charity Fund, as Chris Ryan who won the raffle donated his half back. Other raffles and games of chance followed. Everyone enjoyed the event.

Christmas Salve for a Wounded Church

Christmas marks the most significant religious and cultural event in human history, when the Second Person of the Blessed Trinity, “for our salvation, came down from heaven...and was made man.” It should be a time that evokes feelings of gratitude, joy, serenity, love, goodness, and hope.

But as this holy season approaches, the Church has been severely wounded by an increasing stream of accusations and investigations of clerical immorality and hierarchical concealment. Cardinal Theodore McCarrick was removed from public ministry in June for an allegation of sexually abusing a minor, and one month later, with further reports that he carnally corrupted adult seminarians over decades, he resigned from the College of Cardinals. In August, the Attorney General of Pennsylvania released a 1,400 page report describing widespread sexual exploitation of adult males in that state by hundreds of priests and pervasive hierarchical cover-up.

Since then, fourteen additional attorneys general have begun or announced investigations of the Catholic dioceses in their respective jurisdictions. In October, the U.S. Department of Justice issued subpoenas to probe clerical molestation of children in Pennsylvania. Then, on November 13, while the semi-annual meeting of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) was underway, two class action suits were filed in federal district courts by victims of clerical sexual abuse, one case accusing the USCCB and the Vatican of operating a criminal enterprise under RICO federal racketeering statutes.

And how has the hierarchy responded? With inaction, denial and silence. At the opening of the bishops’ meeting, USCCB President Cardinal Daniel DiNardo announced that the Holy See had directed them to not vote on two measures aimed at improving episcopal accountability in sex abuse cases. In his report to the group, Francesco Cesario, the chairman of the bishops’ National Review Board said: “Today, the faithful and the clergy do not trust many of you. They are angry and frustrated, no longer satisfied with words and even with prayer. They seek action.”

But action was beyond their grasp. After the defeat of a proposal simply to encourage the Holy See to release whatever documents it could about Archbishop McCarrick, one bishop remarked “we cannot seem to speak clearly, even when we want to agree.”

Many priests and bishops were stunned by the revelations and are disconcerted by the hierarchical inaction. An aggrieved laity is producing relentless commentary on social media about the betrayal, withholding donations to the Church, and contributing to numerous reports in the secular press. There has been little guidance for thoughtful deliberation, pastoral efforts and healing.

In spite of the moral darkness permeating the Church, things can change. Reform, however, will occur only when the true nature of the problem is recognized and addressed. Bishop Thomas Daly of Spokane remarked, “There is truly a diabolical nature to this crisis.” Bishop Richard Stika of Knoxville expressed similar views, stating, “I believe Satan is behind all of this.” Both are echoing St. Pope Paul VI, who in 1972, shortly after Vatican Council II, declared that “the smoke of Satan has entered the Church of God.”

A spiritual crisis cannot be solved solely with material approaches. As Cardinal DiNardo said at the end of the bishops’ meeting: “Our hope for true and deep reform ultimately lies in more than excellent systems, as essential as these are. It requires holiness: the deeply held conviction of the truths of the Gospel and the eager readiness to be transformed by those truths in all aspects of life.”

The cardinal’s solution requires a concerted effort by all Catholics, clerical and lay, to live the faith they profess. They must rid the Church of those who use their positions for self-gratification and the exploitation of others. A reformation can start now in Advent by making it not only a

Now that the road widening on Cedar Lane is complete, we were able to construct a new stone wall out front identifying our council building as Rock Creek Mansion. We also constructed two stone columns at the entrance on W. Cedar Lane. They contain our address and bright electric fixtures to illuminate an otherwise dark front entrance.

We have entered into an agreement with Smart Lumen Inc. to convert from incandescent and florescent lighting to L E D electric fixtures and bulbs. This will save us several hundred dollars per month in energy costs.

Rentals continue to be strong. Our projection for the calendar year 2018 is over $150,000. Julie Carter has already booked $56,000 for 2019 -- and has a few deposits and contracts for 2020. She is doing a great job!

And we now are offering a 50% rental discount to current Council members for events, which is increased from the previous 20%. Keep us in mind for your special celebrations.

REFLECTIONS-AUGUST

period of spiritual preparation for the birth of Our Savior at Christmas, but of repentance and renewal of the Church.

In this call for reform, there is an essential role for the laity. Bishop Thomas Daly of Spokane reminds us that, "During times of corruption and sin in the hierarchy and clergy, God raises up holy lay people and families to call again His Church back to holiness." Bishop Joseph Strickland of Tyler further emphasized that role: "This crisis needs the strongest lay voice possible."

We are not in this place at this time by chance. God has willed us to work out our salvation in this period of moral corruption. Jesus, through His coming has given us the means – Grace, the Eucharist, the Sacraments, His Church – to attain that salvation.

Advent provides an opportunity to prepare ourselves spiritually for Christmas and begin the renewal. Undertake activities to morally strengthen yourself – say the Rosary daily, spend an hour each week in Eucharistic Adoration, go to Confession, attend Mass more frequently, meditate on the liturgical readings through which the penitential spirit of the season is exemplified. Pray for the Pope, cardinals, bishops and priests that they are faithful to Christ. Pray that the Church, though it is composed of members with human weaknesses, remains one, catholic, apostolic and holy.

As the current crisis reflects a diabolical influence, corporeal sacrifice is needed. As recently-deceased Bishop Robert Morlino of Madison, reminded us, "Some sins, like some demons, can only be driven out by prayer and fasting." And, it may also be time to reinstitute the Prayer to St. Michael following every Mass. When Pope Leo XIII wrote the prayer in 1884, he did so after having a horrific vision of evil spirits attacking and trying to destroy the Church. Although the prayer was no longer mandated after Vatican II, Pope John Paul II urged its continued recitation.

Do not stop these activities at Christmas. Continue them throughout the year. The future course of the Church rests within the heart and will of each one of us. If we truly want a Church that fully reflects the teachings of Our Lord, we must lead our lives according to those principles.

If we live everyday as a preparation for Christ's coming, the results will be profound. For ourselves, our families and the Church, have hope and pray. If we do, our Church will be quite different.
